Dear Mr. Gilbert:

This is in response to your letter and video tape that was received in the Chicago Regional Office of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) on November 21, 2005. In your letter you were asking for an official determination of the safety aspects of a die cutting machine that you manufacture.

As you know, OSHA does not approve or endorse products. The variable conditions at jobsites and possible alterations and misapplication of an otherwise safe product could easily create a hazardous condition beyond the control of the manufacturer. However, we have reviewed the video tape enclosed with your letter and it appears that the die cutting machine depicted on the video tape if properly installed and used, would meet OSHA's requirements for machine guarding.

We hope that this adequately addresses your concerns regarding this matter. Please be aware that OSHA's enforcement guidance is subject to periodic review and clarification, amplification or correction and may be affected by subsequent rule making. You may also wish to consult the OSHA website at <http://www.osha.gov> for periodic updates and new information. If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact Mr. Nick Antonio of my staff at (312)886 6283.

Thank you for your interest in occupational safety and health.

Sincerely,
